The Challenge of purchase in “Many Kinds, Small Quantity”

There is a demand of “Many Kinds, Small quantity” for Cargo-related materials. It is not the key raw material of their products, hard to reach a large consumption quantity. So it is difficult to negotiate with the manufacturers, as the purchase order is not big enough to make them happy.

Meanwhile, you have to contact and deal with 10 or more manufacturers. Pay higher price, spend much more time, but they can not get good service and prompt delivery. Especially for the global purchasers, the complicated export procedures in the original countries and the import procedures in the destination countries, make it a bigger and headache challenge.
